The Unknown God
Acts 17: 22-23 (ESV)

Discussion Questions:

1. Define Epicureanism and Stoicism
2. What is the current spiritual temperature in your spheres of influence? Are people generally sympathetic, hostile, apathetic, or even curious to spiritual matters?
3. Following Paul's argument, why is it important to begin with a God who made the world and everything in it (vs. 24)?
4. If we rightly understood vs. 27, how would that change how we approach people? How would that change how we interact with people?
5. What is the benefit of quoting extrabiblical sources for Paul? How would you use this technique in your own conversations?
6. Why does Paul include "repentance" and "Judgement" in vs 30 and 31 as part of his message? What's the point and purpose?
7. Though this is not a template for evangelism, there are many beneficial notes of truth embedded in Paul's message. What are some that stuck out to you?
